

No more lame excuses

Work has begun on a new £1 million research project to discover what causes lameness in dairy cows.