

No time for complacency about flooding

Environment Agency urges action as Met Office warns of above average likelihood of a wet winter