

Official launch of National Security Department Reporting Hotline

The National Security Department of Police launched the 'National Security Department Reporting Hotline' today (November 5, 2020) with a view to facilitating members of the public to provide or report national security related information.

Members of the public can report non-urgent national security related matters to National Security Department via various platforms including WeChat, SMS and email.

This hotline is solely for receiving national security related intelligence such as information, photos, audio or video clips. The hotline will not give any replies or be answered.

This hotline is not for general police reporting. To make a Police report, please call a nearby Police Station or 999.

Police will not collect any personal data and will not provide any information by the public to third parties. All data collected will be strictly dealt with in accordance with the Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance.
