

Official Statistics: Weekly rainfall and river flow summary: 22 to 28 February 2017

Following a wet week across England, particularly in the north-west, river flows are mainly normal or higher for the time of year.