

On 17-18 November, Dmitry Medvedev will lead the Russian delegation to the APEC meeting in Papua New Guinea

On 17-18 November 2018, the Prime Minister of Russia will attend the 26th Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) meeting to be held in Port Moresby, Papua New Guinea.

During the meeting, the heads of state and government of the APEC economies will discuss current issues on the global and regional agenda. Particular attention will be paid to promoting the development of the digital economy to ensure sustainable and inclusive economic growth.

A joint declaration is to be adopted following the discussions.