

One million premises upgraded to gigabit broadband by government

The government is rolling out gigabit networks faster than any other country in the EU.