

Open consultation: Assessing and scoring permit compliance

The Environment Agency has listened to your feedback that the current guidance for assessing permit compliance is too complex.

This consultation is an opportunity to comment on its proposed revisions to assessing and scoring permit compliance.

If the proposed changes to the guidance are supported the changes will start on 1 January 2019 (the start of the compliance year).