

Help celebrate Global Citizenship Month!

The One World Centre is hosting a really exciting online Book Chat on Wednesday 9th September 4pm – 5.15pm.

The purpose is to bring teachers together to share books they have used with their pupils to help them develop a greater awareness of our world, and consider the role they can play in helping to make it a fairer, better place for everyone.

Also invited is Barbara Henderson, author of the beautifully written “Wilderness Wars”, to talk about her book and its associated resources for teachers.

You can listen to teachers talk about their favourite books – fiction and real-life stories – to engage and inspire children and young people.

And if you have a book on a Global Citizenship theme you’d like to share, that would be even better!

CARE HOME VISITS

Professional health and social care services will be able to resume visits. Throughout the pandemic these non-essential visits had been paused. From Monday 7th September care homes can resume face-to-face care from a wide range of health and social care professionals, including podiatrists, physiotherapists, optometrists, dentists, social workers and mental health and disability specialists. Activity in indoor communal areas – for example lounges and dining areas – can resume safely too.

QUARANTINE

Portugal and French Polynesia are being removed from the quarantine exemption list. If returning from these locations after 4am yesterday (Saturday) you are required to self-isolate at home, or another specified address, for 14 days on arrival in Scotland. Greece was also removed earlier last week. The arrangement is for the whole of these countries unlike the Welsh Government which has adopted a regional approach.

After Willie Rennie MSP questioned the Scottish Government on the weaknesses in the quarantine spot checks, more money is to be invested in the contact centre to employ 25 new contact tracers.

Many thanks to the local resident for these photos – she adds :

“I was pleased to find lords-and-ladies on Riverside.

I thought we were too far north.”

Lords-and-ladies (Arum maculatum) with its bright autumn berries, is a valuable perennial for shady borders.

Engage Dundee

What has Coronavirus and lockdown meant for you?

Residents across Dundee are being asked to fill out a new questionnaire to help key agencies learn how Coronavirus has impacted on all of Dundee's communities.

Dundee City Council, Dundee Volunteer and Voluntary Action and NHS Tayside are working together through the 'Engage Dundee' initiative to collect information directly from citizens around Dundee.

The purpose of the questionnaire is to learn more about how individuals experienced services during the lockdown period, in addition to finding out the priorities of Dundee's citizens going forward.

The feedback obtained through the survey process will inform future local community planning priorities across the city.
