Getting things done – Blackness Road
#dundeewestend

I recently received complaints that the road surface is poor at the junction where Blackness Road meets Balgay Road/Blackness Avenue.

I raised this with the City Council's Roads Maintenance Partnership and have had the following helpful response :

"Baillie Macpherson

Thank you for your email. This location has been identified for structural inlay hopefully next financial year."

Friends of Wighton – latest update!

From Sheena Wellington :

Friends of Wighton are delighted to announce their first live Cappuccino Concert since February 2020 will take place this Saturday – 23rd April – 11am to noon. Doors open 10.30am

As we are expecting a good audience, please email sheenawellington78@gmail.com to book.

We are not serving coffees/teas yet but please feel free to bring your tea/coffee to go!

Our guests are great local band The Doolichters – see below!

meet The Doolichters

As Covid arrived and the world suddenly ground to an abrupt halt, five singing granddads from Dundee with a combined age of 343 years overcame the perils of 'going digital' and connected over the internet to produce a song. The Rag Man, an unlikely tale of recycling romance gained a local foothold with press and public and in the summer of 2020 a full album followed, all self-penned, celebrating their home in Dundee.

The five comprise Tom Bruce, Sandy Clarke, Ian Moore, Ron Lindsay and Ian Kennedy and the songs reflected growing up in the City in the 50's and 60's. They overcame lockdown restrictions by sharing music and video over the internet which led to the establishment of Doolichters TV on You Tube which now boasts getting on for 40,000 views.

The band took the name 'The Doolichters' from the name for a large 'bunnet' or cap, big enough for a pigeon to alight on and their first album 'This Is Dundee' sold out with the follow-up CD, 'Mystifehd & Ancient' released in December 2021 having every likelihood of following the same path..

Getting things done – Lochee Road/Cleghorn Street #dundeewestend

Following the changes to junction arrangements at Lochee Road/Cleghorn Street to prevent some right turns, numerous constituents have contacted me about the need for better signage and also to ensure close monitoring of the junction.

Following my raising this with the City Council, the road safety team leader has undertaken a site visit to the junction and monitoring will continue.

However, if you are going to have signage to highlight the situation – at least get the name of Cleghorn Street correct! I raised this error with the road safety team leader who has replied as follows :

“I will pass it on to the contractor to correct.”
