Over seven million people in the UK receive COVID-19 booster jabs

More than two million boosters have been administered in the last week alone as the Health Secretary urges people to get their booster as soon as possible