

Overwhelming support for Online Safety Act as rules making UK the safest place in the world to be online become law

Raft of voices below have thrown their support behind Act protecting children from online harm, while empowering adults with more choices over what they see online.