

Oxford to play host to crucial G7 health talks

Oxford University – an international hub of clinical and medical expertise – will host G7 Health Ministers' Meeting in early June