

Patients get same-day appointments with local pharmacists

People with minor illnesses or who need medicine urgently have been referred to local pharmacies, relieving pressure on doctors.