

People who lost jobs in business failures thrown vital lifeline by Insolvency Service

The Insolvency Service's Redundancy Payments Service processed more than 85,000 claims from former employees of companies which had become insolvent