PHE to provide genomic sequencing support to partners across the world

Public Health England (PHE) has today announced the first group of countries who will receive genomic sequencing support through the New Variant Assessment Platform (NVAP).