

Planning for the Future

A series of 'Planning for the Future' roadshows, which will offer Scottish farmers advice on everything from accounting to writing a will, are to be held around the country.