

PM announces further funding for the National Crime Agency (NCA) and new migration returns figures

The PM has announced two new elements of this government's approach to boost border security and restore order to the asylum system.