

PM call with President Trump: 16 December 2019

The Prime Minister spoke with President Trump, who congratulated him on the result of the General Election.

They discussed the huge importance of the relationship between the UK and US, and looked forward to continued close cooperation on issues such as security and trade, including the negotiation of an ambitious free trade agreement.

Published 18 December 2019