

PM joins public sector workers to light up Downing Street for Christmas

This evening the Prime Minister will join NHS workers, military personnel and members of the police to switch on the Downing Street Christmas lights (Monday 2 December).