

Police support and co-operate with IPCC's study on public order events

The Hong Kong Police Force will support and co-operate with the work of a Special Task Force set up by the Independent Police Complaints Council (IPCC) under its statutory power to undertake a detailed study on recent public order events occurred between June 9 and July 2, 2019. The Force will encourage frontline force members and Police Force Council Staff Associations to provide relevant experience and information for the IPCC's study.
