

Policy paper: Fisheries management and support: provisional common framework

How the UK government and devolved governments propose to work together on policies for the sustainable management of fisheries and the wider seafood sector.