

Policy paper: Reducing pollution from agriculture across Wessex

This document explains how the Environment Agency is working with partners and the farming community to reduce the effects of pollution in Wessex, by ensuring farming practices do not result in pollution now or in the future.