

Policy paper: Review of policy for development in areas at flood risk

This review identified key areas of the planning process related to flood risk management and sets out actions the government will take to strengthen its approach