

Policy paper: Updated short-term traded carbon values used for modelling purposes (2017)

Updated short-term traded carbon values used for modelling purposes have been used in the latest update to BEIS's Energy and Emissions projections and will be used in other models of electricity generation and investment across government.