

Press release: £40 million personalised support package for long- term unemployed disabled people launched

Disabled people will be able to work with a dedicated key worker to get and stay in employment, the new Work and Pensions Secretary Amber Rudd has announced today.