

Press release: 96% of English bathing waters meet required quality standards

Government and Environment Agency outline action to further improve bathing water quality.