

Press release: Action on preparing for drought must remain, experts warn

National Drought Group reiterates the importance of continuing to work together to prepare for all weather eventualities and future droughts.