

Press release: Bathing water reforms to consider water sports and water quality

Defra invites the public, community and environmental groups, farmers, businesses and local authorities to share views on modernising bathing water regulations.