

Press release: Britain opens its doors to communities in need

Towns across the country will benefit from a new scheme which will see landlords turn their empty shops into vibrant community hubs open to the public.