

Press release: British lamb shipped to America for first time in over two decades

British lamb producers now have access to a market of over 300 million people