

Press release: Celebrities pledge to clean up their act on social media

Social media stars with millions of followers have agreed to change the way they label their posts, as a result of CMA action.