

Press release: Collaboration urged as climate change puts water security at risk

Environment Agency Chief Executive John Curtin chaired the latest National Drought Group meeting on 24 May.