

Press release: Communities bid to make their high streets fit for the future

More than 300 local authorities across the country have bid for a share of the £675 million Future High Street Fund to transform their local high streets