

Press release: Company fined after land spreading leads to pollution

A company has been fined £20,000 following an Environment Agency investigation after polluting a stream during land spreading at a North East farm.