

Press release: Crackdown on water firms sees millions invested into local action

Up to £11 million from water company fines and penalties will be reinvested to directly improve the water environment.