

Press release: 'Designing out' cyber threats to businesses and personal data

On Data Privacy Day, Business Secretary Greg Clark announces measures for the UK to become a world leader in the race against some of the most damaging cyber security threats.