

Press release: EA Chair says collaboration needed to protect local economies and nature on the coast

More work is needed to ensure the protection, recovery and restoration of our coastal and marine environment, and to enable coastal populations to thrive.