

Press release: Flood risk begins to recede but public are warned to be vigilant

Despite lower rainfall amounts forecast for this week, communities are reminded to check their flood risk and remain prepared to take action if needed.