

Press release: Funding announced to train 900 new children's social workers

£45million to boost the number of trainees on the Frontline programme