

Press release: Gove unveils new covenants to protect nature

A consultation on conservation covenants, voluntary agreements to protect nature, has been launched by the government.