

Press release: Green light for investment in electric car battery development

Government announces £23 million of funding for businesses large and small to develop the latest technology for electric car batteries.