

Press release: HMRC warns of landline scams threatening households

Those with landline phones are warned to be cautious due to criminals using phones to contact victims following a rising focus on SMS and email phishing.