

Press release: Homes England trials co-location in the Midlands

Homes England is trialling shared office space with Coventry City Council to see if the centre of the country location could work as a new national centre for the agency.