

Press release: Horse power slows the flow in the Aire catchment

Horse power is being used at Harden Moor in West Yorkshire, as part of a project to trial natural flood management techniques to reduce the risk of flooding.