

Press release: Magic beans and buzzing coffee win international science award

Projects to grow drought resistant beans and create energy from coffee waste are among the winners of the 2018 Newton Prize.