

Press release: Market researcher banned for thousands of unregulated marketing calls

Director of a market research and polling company has received a six-year ban for allowing company to make thousands of unregulated marketing calls.