

Press release: New approach to sustainable drainage set to reduce flood risk and clean up rivers

A consistent approach to sustainable drainage systems is set to be incorporated into new developments in England.