

Press release: New era of tech-driven legal and financial services to boost productivity and improve customer experience

New research projects will investigate how businesses can make best use of artificial intelligence in insurance and law.