

Press release: New for newts: better for wildlife, business and people

An innovative approach by Natural England to protect great crested newts and encourage sustainable development was today (28 February) launched in Kent.