

Press release: New rules to better protect renters' money

All private rented property agents will have to sign up to a scheme protecting both renters' and landlords' money under new laws.